Guide to the Senfl Catalogue (SC)

I. Catalogue of the Works

For the guide to the catalogue of works, please refer to volume 1, pp. 27–35.

II. Catalogue of the Sources

The present volume of the Catalogue Raisonné forms the catalogue of the sources. It is divided into manuscripts, prints, theoretical writings and textbooks, theoretical writings mentioning Senfl, and other sources. Almost all of the sources were examined either in the original or in reproduction. In the few cases where this was not possible (such as sources which are not accessible due to their state of preservation), the source is marked as ‘(not seen)’. Destroyed and missing sources are identified as such.

The physical description and general information concerning the sources is, when possible, based on secondary literature. For those manuscripts included in Charles Hamm and Herbert Kellman, Census-Catalogue of Manuscript Sources of Polyphonic Music 1400–1550, 5 vols., Renaissance Manuscript Studies, 1 (Neuhausen-Stuttgart, 1979–88), selected sections of the relevant entries are reproduced by kind permission of the publisher. Information concerning the remaining manuscripts has been gathered mainly from the respective library catalogues. For printed sources and tablatures the RISM catalogues (series A/I and B/I); Howard Mayer Brown, Instrumental Music Printed before 1600; as well as Christian Meyer, Sources manuscrites en tablature, luth et theorbe (c.1500–c.1800) served as starting points. As we examined most of the sources either on-site or in reproduction, all descriptions have been checked and in some cases revised by the data gathered from our own observations as well as further secondary literature.

Information on watermarks has not been taken into account.

1. Identifying headline

Manuscripts are cited with RISM library siglum and shelfmark; if applicable, a common designation of the source is also named. On the right side of the headline the appropriate siglum according to the Census-Catalogue is provided, e.g.

D-Rp C 120 (‘Pernner Codex’)

Census RegB C120

The headline is followed by the title of the manuscript (if present) as it appears in the source (for partbooks, according to the tenor partbook, unless indicated otherwise). Contemporary abbreviations are always spelled out in square brackets.

Prints are identified according to RISM A/I, RISM B/I, or in the case of tablatures according to Brown. The siglum is followed by the title of the print as it appears in the source (for partbooks, according to the tenor partbook, unless indicated otherwise).

The entries for theoretical writings and textbooks are catalogued by the author’s name, the title as it appears in the source, and if available the number in VD16, VD17, vdm, or ESTC.

2. Physical description of the source

The physical description of the source includes the type of source and the number and size of folios or pages, as well as comments on foliation, pagination, and numbering present in the source.

Types of sources:

- ⌘ choirbook (x fols.)
- ⌘ partbooks: number, voice designations, and the number of folios for each partbook are given (e.g. 4 partbooks: D (x fols.), A (x fols.), T (x fols.), B (x fols.))
- ⌘ lute tablature (x fols.)
- ⌘ keyboard tablature (x fols.)
- ⌘ theoretical writings and textbooks (x fols.)
- ⌘ other sources (individually described)

The size of manuscripts is rounded to 0.5 cm and given as height × width (e.g. 14.5 × 18 cm). Prints are designated according to the book formats: 2° (folio), 4° (quarto), 6° (sesto), 8° (octavo), 16° (sedecimo). Oblong format is indicated by ‘obl.’.

3. Origin

Place and Date

The place of copying/printing and in the case of manuscripts also the place(s) of utilisation (if known) are given as well as the approximate date (time-span) of copying/printing, indicating differing estimates with reference to secondary literature.

Scribe, Owner, Printer, Publisher, Editor, Dedicatee

Scribes are only indicated if they are known by name. For a further discussion of anonymous scribes, the relevant secondary literature is either referred to or listed under ‘Literature’. Owners and the provenance of manuscript sources are described as far as this is known. The names of printers, publishers, editors, and dedicatees of printed sources are standardised. If the printer or the publisher is not named in the source, the name is given in square brackets and the relevant secondary literature indicated. Printers, publishers, and editors can also be searched for in separate indexes in the back matter.

4. Extant copies

The extant copies of a print are cited according to RISM library sigla, indicating if a copy lacks partbooks or is in other ways incomplete. The copy examined is marked in bold type. For information concerning the abbreviations of libraries see ‘RISM Sigla of Libraries’ in the back matter.

5. Related sources

Related sources such as other editions, further volumes, and sources sharing the same repertoire/scribe are listed. For printed musical sources the reprints are also recorded in separate entries in the catalogue; in the catalogue section ‘Theoretical Writings and Textbooks’ the reprints are recorded separately only in extraordinary cases (see below, 10. Theoretical Writings and Textbooks).

6. Works by Senfl present in the source

The list of compositions within a source records all works mentioned in SC 1, including misattributed settings. In cases where a numbering is present in the source, this is used as information of location within the source (for further systems of foliation or pagination of an individual piece cf. the catalogue of the works). In cases where there is no or an irregular numbering in the source, a numbering found in the standard reference literature is used. The origin of this numbering is indicated above the list of compositions, e.g. in H-Bn Ms. mus. Bártfa 2 (a–f):

Numbering in square brackets according to Murányi 1991.

M 38 [no. 259], no. 9: Ecce quam bonum – 2.p. Quoniam illic mandavit dominus, anon., D missing

The numbering '[no. 259]' follows Róbert Murányi's catalogue of the Bártfa sources in the Hungarian National Library, while 'no. 9' corresponds to the numbering of the piece in the manuscript.

If no numbering is present in the source and the standard literature provides none, foliation/pagination is used. This indicates only the beginning of a piece; in the case of partbooks it indicates the beginning in the tenor unless stated otherwise.

Senfl's compositions are listed in the order of their appearance in the source and are identified by the catalogue number. The original spelling of the text incipit and attribution follow the tenor of the source. In cases where this is not possible or where the tenor provides no attribution, the discantus or bassus partbook will be considered next. If the text incipit or attribution is derived from a voice other than the tenor, this is indicated immediately after the information concerned:

M 79 no. 12: Om[n]es ge[n]tes plaudite manibus – 2.p. Ascendit deus in iubilo, LVDOVICVS SENFEL QVI[N]QVE (D)

The text incipit of this entry derives from the tenor, but the attribution is taken from the discantus (as the tenor carries no attribution).

M 88 no. 1, fol. 2^r (D): Vita in ligno moritur – 2.p. Qui prophetice prompsisti – 3.p. Qui expansis in cruce manib[us], Lud: Senffel

In this case, all information, including numbering and foliation, derives from the discantus.

Cycles (of proper or Magnificat settings) are listed with subheadings indicating their liturgical assignment. Square brackets are used for editorial additions.

Dominica Prima: post octa[va]s Corporis Chr[ist]i

P 23a [no. 7], fol. 68^v: Domine in tua misericordia – 2.p. Usq[ue]q[uo] d[omi]ne obliuisceris me, Ludouicus Sennphli[us]

P 23b [no. 8], fol. 72^v: Alleluia. Domine Deus meus in te speravi, anon.

P 23c [no. 9], fol. 76^v: Narrabo omnia mirabilia tua, anon.

If a composition contains multiple parts, the text incipits of all partes present in the source are listed, e.g.

Mag 5 [no. 23], fol. 282^v: Et exultauit spiritus meus – 2.p. Quia fecit mihi magna – 3.p. Fecit potentiam in brachio suo – 4.p. Esurientes implevit bonis – 5.p. Sicut locutus est – 6.p. Sicut erat in principio, Ludouici Senfls; on fol. 282^r the remark: Sequitur Magnificat Quinti Toni. Ludouici Senfls.

7. Facsimiles and editions

Facsimiles and editions of the individual source are listed. In the case of prints only facsimiles and editions of the complete source are included. Because of their singular form of transmission and their variety of different styles, manuscript facsimiles are also listed if they reproduce only a selection of pages. This information is nevertheless provided without any claim of completeness.

8. Literature

Literature is divided into catalogue literature (e.g. library catalogues, Census, RISM), central secondary literature concerning the source as a whole, and encyclopedias (e.g. NG², MGG²), in this order. The first and the last are listed in alphabetical order; the secondary literature is listed chronologically. For detailed information concerning the cited literature see the Bibliography.

9. Comments

Further comments on the manuscript or the copies of a print are provided in this section. This includes, for example, information on a noteworthy owner of a certain copy, if known, or deviating titles in partbooks other than the tenor.

10. Theoretical Writings and Textbooks

Theoretical Writings and Textbooks are identified by the author's name and the title of the publication in the original spelling. The entries are ordered chronologically and can be further searched for in a separate index of authors in the back matter. The entries are divided into two different sections. In the first ('Theoretical Writings and Textbooks') are included all books with one of Senfl's compositions, complete or only a part, in musical notation. The second section ('Theoretical Writings and Textbooks mentioning Ludwig Senfl') lists all publications which refer to Senfl or one of his compositions in words. As mentioned above, those two sections list first editions of books and only in exceptional cases later editions (e.g. where there are differing titles or the first edition is lost). Normally later editions are only named in the entry of the first edition.

11. Other Sources

This section describes sources of extraordinary design, i.e. sources other than paper or parchment books, leaflets, or broadsheets. Two tabletops, playing cards, and embroidered partbooks are recorded. As those objects are diverse in nature, the descriptions are individually designed. They are identified by type as well as the name and inventory number of the museum. In case of lost or missing objects the last known location is recorded.

Comments Original leather covers with the initials H.H. and date 1524 (T and B); original index in V partbook; dates from 21 September to 1 October 1533 appear in the discantus partbook (see above).

The first part (up to no. 60) of the MS seems to be a copy of an older source (before 1512) from the orbit of the imperial court chapel of Maximilian I (Pfisterer 2013b). In some places different ordering of pieces in tenor partbook.

Original pagination in A, modern foliation in D (see Steude 1974).

Origin Dessau; c.1553–5 (date 1555 on cover of T)

Owner Probably copied for use by the ‘Kantorei’ of the Latin school in Dessau. The MS formerly belonged to the library of Prince Georg III of Anhalt-Dessau.

After the entire manuscript had been brought to the former Soviet Union in the aftermath of the Second World War, three partbooks were returned to the library in Dessau in the 1950s; the discantus, however, was erroneously delivered to the library in Dresden. In 1997 Armin Brinzing discovered the relationship of the four partbooks and the set was reunited in 1998 (Stadtarchiv Dessau-Roßlau / Anhaltische Landesbücherei Dessau, pers. comm.).

Comments D-Dl Mus. 1/D/3 is identical with Mus.-mss. B 1270 of the Musiksammlung der Königlichen Bibliothek in Dresden (cf. Eitner/Kade 1890: 57–62). This can be deduced from Senfl's De profundis (no. 15) for which this catalogue mentions that all parts of the setting are ascribed to Josquin and only T and B bear an ascription to Senfl.

tion; original ink numbering of pieces with some errors and inconsistencies; some pieces numbered by modern hand.

Origin	Presumably copied in Barth; c.1539–88
Scribe	Joannes Soldeke of Barth (inscription inside front cover of B book) and others
Owner	Original owner was Joannes Soldeke, a minister in Barth, who purchased the printed partbooks in 1539. Following Soldeke's death (1588) the partbooks came into the possession of Michael Froboese (Wolgast), who donated them to the city library in Wolgast. The holdings of this library were later incorporated in the Universitätsbibliothek of Greifswald.

Comments Original index on fol. 215 lists all pieces except Senfl's Virgo prudentissima (omission corrected by modern hand).

As all three parts of Senfl's Qui prophetice prompsisti (M 88) are included, the MS may have been compiled after 1537. Senfl composed the Vita in ligno first. In 1537 Wagenrieder reported to Albrecht, Duke of Prussia, that Senfl subsequently composed the first two parts of the motet (Gasch 2012). A similar dating of the MS is suggested by Fuhrmann's assumption that De profundis (ii; M 29; no. 5 in the MS) was composed not long before 1535, the year Senfl sent this motet to Duke Albrecht as well (Fuhrmann 2012: 335).

Choirbook layout (iv + 133 fols.) $\text{~} 13.5 \times 20.5 \text{ cm}$

New pencil foliation; modern numbering of pieces.

Origin First part (fol. 1–86^r/nos. 1–79): Augsburg or Innsbruck, c.1515–24 (Bente 1968); Augsburg, after 1520, probably 1522–3 (Schwindt 2018a); second part (fol. 86^v–104^r/nos. 80–97): Munich, c.1525–35 (Bente 1968)

Scribe One main scribe (fol. 1–86^r), sometimes identified as Ludwig Senfl (Bente 1968 and Hell 1987; Schwindt 2010 argues against), a second scribe (Lucas Wagenrieder) copied fols. 86^v–101^r; a third scribe added three pieces on fols. 101^v–104^r.

Owner First part gathers song repertoire from the imperial chapel of Maximilian I, probably provided and selected by Ludwig Senfl (Schwindt 2018a); second part copied at the Bavarian court chapel.

 Mostly original foliation; indexes at beginning of each book have modern foliation in Roman numerals.
Origin Augsburg (Rifkin 2005/Fallows 2006); before 1527 (date in MS)
Scribe Bernhard Rem (Rifkin 2005/Fallows 2006)
Owner The source was perhaps written for Hieronymus Welser. A coat of arms with his name and the year 1527 (in A, T, and B partbooks) was discovered after a restoration in 1974. It seems that Welser sold the partbooks even before binding, probably to Glarean (Meconi 2009: 100).

Choirbook (177 fols.) * 46 × 32.5 cm

Modern foliation

Origin Torgau; c.1540–4

Scribe Copied by one main scribe, perhaps for use at the Schlosskirche in Wittenberg.

Owner Taken from Wittenberg to Weimar by Johann Friedrich I, deposed Elector of Saxony, in 1548.

Related The main scribe also wrote D-GO1 Chart. A 98, most of PL-Kj Mus. ms. 40013, the earliest layer of of PL-Kj Mus. ms. 40043, as well as most of T of D-Ngm 83795; the Kyrie on fols. 97^v–98^r is a later addition by a different hand. It seems that Johann Walter was barely involved in the copying of this source, although he collaborated with the main scribe on other projects (Gerhardt 1949: 29).

D-Z 73(‘MS of Jodocus Schalreuter’)

6 partbooks: D (i + 187 + i fols.), A (196 fols.), T (192 fols.), B (195 fols.), Q (143 fols.), 6 (98 fols.)
 c.17.5 x 19.5 cm

Modern pencil foliation; original ink numbering of pieces in six series (i: 1–44; ii: 1–20; iii: 1–11; iv: 1–36; v: 1–28; vi: 1).

Origin

Probably Magdeburg or Wittenberg; mid-16th century (dates 1534–48 in MS)

Scribe

Main scribe is Jodocus Schalreuter, who is named in the dedicatory inscriptions at the beginning of the DATB books. Two further scribes can probably be identified with Jodocus’s son Paul Schalreuter and the later owner of the MS Georg Neumeyster (Just/Schwemer 2004).

Owner

Jodocus Schalreuter; the MS was partly copied during Schalreuter’s exile. Georg Neumeyster (former pupil of Schalreuter) purchased the MS from Schalreuter’s sons in Wittenberg in 1553; he consigned it to the Ratsschulbibliothek in Zwickau in 1582 (Just/Schwemer 2004).

1 partbook (of an original 4 or 5): D (i + 46 fols.) % 18 × 23 cm

Modern pencil foliation; original numbering of pieces

Origin Probably copied in Wittenberg (Elders 1981); c.1549–50 (Elders 1981).
Scribe Jodocus Schalreuter
Owner The MS was probably intended as a copy for Georg Rhau's workshop (Schlüter 2004). Perhaps owned by Otto Kade in late 19th century; in 1930 E. Liphart-Rathshoff gave the book as a present to Dr E. Hecht-Schneider (inscription inside front cover); inherited by the latter's son Peter Hecht; acquired by Ratsschulbibliothek Zwickau from Peter Hecht in 2017.

Modern pencil foliation; first 23 fols. also have original red ink foliation; latter foliation system continued by modern hand.

Origin Torgau; c.1540

Scribe One main scribe; slightly later additions or corrections by several other scribes.

Owner Copied under the direction of Johann Walter, probably for the Pfarrkirche in Torgau.

Related The main scribe also wrote D-GO Chart. A 98, D-WRhk MS B, the earliest layer of PL-Kj Mus. ms. 40043, as well as most of the T of D-Ngm 83795 (Gerhardt 1949).

Numbers allocated to compositions according to Gerhardt 1949: 45–93.

Some modern pencil foliation in T.

Origin Torgau; c.1542–4 (some few later additions)

Scribe Johann Walter, (possibly) Michael Vogt (Gerhardt 1949), and four other scribes

Owner Johann Walter

Related The scribe of the earliest layer also wrote D-GO Chart. A 98, D-WRhk MS B, most of PL-Kj Mus. ms. 40013, as well as most of T of D-Ngm 83795 (Gerhardt 1949).

Gerhardt 1949 describes the MS as a supplementary volume to the previously-copied D-Ngm 83795 (T) and PL-Kj Mus. ms. 40013; it probably also served as a source for D-GO Chart. A 98 and some of the later additions in D-Ngm 83795 (T).

Old German keyboard tablature (260 fols.) $\frac{3}{4} 38 \times 21$ cm

Modern pencil foliation

Origin Crasnyk, near Lublin (Poland)?; 1537–48

Scribe Johannes of Lublin, with some additions (scribblings and excercises) by some other hands (students?) (White 1963).

Owner The MS belonged to the cloister of the Canonici Regulares in Crasnyk, where it was used by the organists of the cloister for teaching reasons. In the 18th century the MS came into the possession of Hieronymus Lopacinski, and in 1906 it came to its present place, the Polish Academy of Sciences in Kraków (White 1963).

Owner Formerly owned by Brieg Gymnasial-Bibliothek; transferred to present location in 1890.

Numbering according to Kuhn 1896.

Catalogues Census iv: 164f. cm Kuhn 1896: 33–5

Comments Rebound in modern covers of black cardboard; many fols. in the T are now fragmentary and in very poor condition, apparently due to water or fire damage.

Comments Formerly catalogued as a convolute of three prints (RISM [c.1535]¹⁴) in F-Pn, the only surviving discantus partbooks bound together. Gustavson (2018) identified the different titles of those prints in a library catalogue from the 17th century and discovered tenor partbooks matching part i and part iii of the Paris convolute in CH-BEl. We thank Royston Gustavson for bringing his discovery of the tenor partbook in CH-BEl and its Senfl attribution to our attention.

Each partbook shows a four-line German poem describing the part's character (cf. EdM 20: XIX–XXI). It is possible that Forster had this volume reprinted in 1551. As the same title page (with the date 1549) was used and not all copies were inspected to date, it is only known that the tenor partbook in D-Ngm has a colophon dated 1551 (cf. vdm 1516).

Indexes

Text Incipits

The following text incipits list all works by Senfl in the catalogue in alphabetical order, including contrafacta, as well as misattributed compositions. With regard to multipartite pieces (i.e. introits, sequences, etc.), all partes are recorded individually. In the case of songs, spellings significantly diverging from the standard spelling are included. If not stated otherwise, the index refers to compositions for four voices.

Acrostics

The following list contains all acrostics that have been hitherto identified in Senfl's extant works. The acrostics are in different ways concealed in the texts: words, syllables, and letters of each strophe or line spell out a name, a motto, or a poem of its own. Only in rare cases are those acrostics highlighted in the sources. Hyphens in the list below mark where text sections have to be skipped within the word unit of the acrostic.

Until now, scholars have had an inadequate picture of the scope and transmission of the œuvre of Ludwig Senfl (c.1490–1543), one of the most important Renaissance composers of the German-speaking lands. The present publication comprises a comprehensive catalogue raisonné for this Renaissance composer.

Volume 2 of the two-volume set is a catalogue of the sources transmitting Senfl's music: musical sources in manuscript and print, theoretical writings, and unusual sources such as embroidered partbooks, table tops, and playing cards with musical notation. The individual entries include significant codicological information, remarks on related sources, a list of Senfl's compositions, and information on facsimile reproductions and editions of the source as well as catalogues and secondary literature. This volume contains the necessary resources to support all facets of the catalogue, such as abbreviations, an extensive bibliography, and indexes.

The Senfl Catalogue serves as an encyclopedic research tool for further scholarly investigation: it not only presents a lively and coherent picture of Senfl's œuvre, but also helps to explore the broader musical culture of his time. At the same time, the in-depth presentation of Senfl's music provides performers of early music with new information on repertory that adds to the soundscape of the Renaissance.

Stefan Gasch and Sonja Tröster are editors of the New Senfl Edition and lecturers at the University of Vienna as well as the University of Music and Performing Arts Vienna.

Birgit Lodes is Professor of Historical Musicology at the University of Vienna and corresponding member of the Austrian Academy of Sciences.
